WORK EXPERIENCE

Spanish Teacher (Since 2016)

- ▶ Individual classes. Beginner, intermediate and advanced levels. Conversation, writing, orality, grammar, reading, and pronunciation.

Editor, proof-reader and translator. Coordination and supervision (Since 2013)

- ▶ Since 2013 I have been working for Línea Médica, our family-run business dedicated to providing editorial services to medical publishing houses. My main activities include: punctuation and grammatical correction; proof-reading and translation, as well as supervision and coordination of layout and illustration tasks. We offer editorial services to Spanish and Latin American publishing houses, mainly Océano, RBA, Masson, Panamericana, CEAC, among others.

Freelance Editor: Translation, proof-reading/editing, and punctuation and grammatical correction (2000 – 2013)

- ▶ Since I finished my secondary school, I have been working in the publishing field, learning the profession through our family-run business. From 2000 to 2013, I worked mainly in translation tasks (French-Spanish), proof-reading and punctuation and grammatical corrections. This work was done intermittently, because simultaneously I carried out my university studies or internships in companies or research centres. As a freelance editor or external collaborator, I worked mainly with the following publishing houses: STM, ARS XXI and FonFor. I have specialized in medicine, psychology, scientific and gastronomy books. In parallel to this, I regularly worked for the company Línea Médica Servicios Editoriales.

Internship Consultant (January 2008 – June 2008)

- ▶ Internship carried out, during the last semester of my BA degree in Political Science, in Antares Consulting – a company specialized in strategy, management and technology consulting projects in the field of health, life sciences and social and long-term care services. My tasks include: project development in the area of social services for the city Council of Barcelona and the Catalan Government (Generalitat); Public policies evaluation and strategic plans for the improvement of the public management.

Journalism Internship (January 2007 – February 2007)

- ▶ Internship at the Argentine newspaper “Página 12”, in the International Department. Writing of press releases, news and collaboration in reports.

Teaching Assistant Internship (September 2006 - November 2006)

- ▶ Development of the different courses and postgraduate programs offered by the Latin American Centre for Social Sciences (CLACSO). Discussion and organization of seminars and conferences for students, on topics related to Political Science and International Relations. Participation in the editorial board: selection and publication of academic articles on Political Science and International Relations.
